

HEADLESS TORSO IN A SEWER

Cincinnati Police Officials Confronted by Pro- bable Murder Mystery

GRUESOME FIND OF BOYS

Men With Lanterns and Prodding Sticks Searching for Missing Head.

Cincinnati, Aug. 5.—That the unidentified white woman whose headless body partially clad was found late Friday in Bloody Run sewer in a lonely spot in the outskirts of Cincinnati, was murdered by having her throat cut and her body thrown into the sewer was the theory advanced by Coroner Coe today.

The sewer is more than a mile in length and there are 100 manholes into which the body might have been thrown. The absence of the woman's head, which the coroner now thinks was on the body when it was cast into the sewer has so far baffled identification.

The coroner believed the head fell from the body in the sewer and the police and a large force of city sewer department employes began a search of the big drain this morning.

They are equipped with long poles with which they prodded in the foot and a half of water and muck in the bottom of the eight foot sewer. The work was done by the light of lanterns and their progress through the sewer was slow.

The headless corpse was found by four boys who walked through the big trunk sewer Friday morning as a prank. Terror seized their lips until Friday afternoon when one of the boys told his father what he had seen and the police and coroner were notified.

Dr. Theodore Bange, who performed the postmortem examination at the morgue believes that the woman had been in the water about a month. The woman, he says, was between 25 and 35 years old, weighed probably 145 lbs and was in perfect physical condition. He found no external marks of violence and doubts that the head was severed from the body by the murderer.

Coroner Coe admits a slit on the woman's left arm and a deep hole in the chest may have been caused by a wound inflicted before death, but says that there is an equal probability that driftwood aided by decomposition caused the marks.

The body has also been gnawed by rats. The head was severed close to the shoulders, exposing the collar bone and one shoulder blade. The lower part of the woman's body was in excellent condition and the feet were perfect in shape and without a blemish. The hands were slender with tapering fingers and the nails of both hands and feet showed care. The shoes and stockings were missing, but the body was clad in a blue skirt of heavy material, an undershirt of fine texture, a corset chemise of lace and embroidery and a black polka-dotted shirt waist.

The body was found near the north opening of the sewer, where the water drains into another sewer. The nearest large outlet is half a mile away. The police say the body could have been dropped through a manhole but believe it may have been put at the south end and carried north by the water which is sometimes several feet deep after a heavy rain.

The place where the body was discovered is in a secluded part of the north suburbs, half a mile from the nearest house and several hundred yards from Hopkins avenue, a highway much frequented by automobiles.

The police of many cities have wired descriptions of missing women to Chief of Police Jackson, but none seems to fit that of the headless woman. A full description of the murdered woman from the coroner's observations and measurements is:

Height probably 5 feet 8 inches. Weight 145 pounds. Age 25 to 35 years. Complexion probably dark. Clothing: Greenish blue skirt of a heavy material; undershirt of fine texture and ribbed; corset cover and chemise, the latter of lace and embroidered; shirt waist, short sleeved, white with large polka dots.

Identification of the clothing on the body as that worn by a woman seen in the vicinity with two men a week ago was made by Howard Wilson, a paper hanger, today. He relates that a week ago Friday he saw a woman and two men drive to the pathway leading to the sewer in a hurry. They got out and went down the path, he said, and the men returned alone. He said that he got a good view of the woman and that her clothing answered the description of that worn by the dead woman. Wilson stated that when the woman got out of the vehicle she was forced to walk between the two men.

OPPOSITION TO THE TREATIES

Washington, D. C. Aug. 5.—Opposition to the senate to the arbitration treaties recently signed between the U. S. and England and France will probably prevent their consideration at the present session of congress, and according to some of the senators may prevent their ratification. Several members of the committee on foreign relations resent the fact that they were not consulted in the preparation of the agreements.

ROOSEVELT TESTIFIES IN STEEL PROBE

New York, August 5.—For the first time in the history of the United States, a former president appeared before a legislative committee today, when Col Theodore Roosevelt presented himself before the Stanley investigating committee to tell what he knew regarding the absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company by the steel trust. Apparently Roosevelt testified before the committee as a legal organization not formed to curtail output, restrict competition or maintain prices, but to develop the steel industry of America. Aside from reciting the inside history of the origin of the Steel Corporation, he gave the committee much information relating to traffic matters, ore properties and steel manufactures. He said that he had persuaded Carnegie to sell.

The witness denied that the Brussels conference of steel manufacturers of the world, from which he returned recently, had anything to do with fixing prices.

"I want to assure you," he said, "that at no time was the question of price or division of business even mentioned. We were there, to tell the exact truth, it seems to me, to have a good time."

Representative Sterling of Illinois led Mr. Schwab into a general discussion of the tariff on steel, particularly as to the relations of the business in this country and Germany.

"The real purpose of the tariff on steel," Mr. Sterling suggested, "is to protect you in the home market. You say you can manufacture rails as cheaply as Germany, and you still have the advantage in that territory, while it must transport to our market?"

"Yes, but Germany can now transport to our Pacific coast for less than we can ship from Pittsburgh to the coast," said Mr. Schwab.

"I do not want to argue the tariff," he said, "but I cannot for the life of me see any disadvantage to America from liberal protection. It seems to me to be a mistake to have the tariff so low that a foreign competitor can even reach our Pacific coast. That is not the practice of Germany, France, Austria or Italy, or of any country except England."

"You could make rails for less than $28 a ton and still make some profit, couldn't you?" Mr. Beall inquired.

"Oh, yes," was Mr. Schwab's reply, "but I think $28 a ton is too low. As a matter of fact, since I have been president of the Bethlehem Steel Company we have never sold rails for less than $30. We have sold them as high as $35 a ton."

Mr. Schwab was a willing witness on all points but one. When Mr. Beall asked him concerning an opinion given before the Steel Corporation combine by Andrew Carnegie on his steel plants to Judge W. H. Moore and H. C. Frick—a deal never consummated, to the financial loss of Mr. Moore and Mr. Frick—Mr. Schwab said the option was secured for some one whose name never had been mentioned.

"Who was it?" Mr. Beall asked.

"I prefer not to say."

"Was it some one now engaged in the steel business?"

"Nothing can induce me to say more," Mr. Schwab answered. "It was a purely personal and private matter."

The subject was pressed no further. Chairman Stanley referred to the suit brought by H. C. Frick against the Carnegie Company in 1899, when the former retired, and when, on the basis of the Ironclad agreement, he was to have been paid his share on a book value of $1,000,000.

Frick, in his suit, placed the value at $250,000,000. It was finally settled on an appraised value of about $320,000,000.

"That was the same property, was it not," asked Mr. Stanley, "that was sold a few months afterward to the United States Steel Corporation for $520,000,000?"

Mr. Schwab said it was, but explained that the book value estimate was based on the actual dollar members of the company had put in the concern and that each member, in case of death or retirement, had agreed, Mr. Frick among them, to sell

A LIBERAL PROTECTION

Is No Disadvantage to America Is Claim of the Steel Magnate.

New York, Aug. 5.—Charles M. Schwab, now a competitor of the United States Steel Corporation, has revealed that corporation before the house committee of inquiry as the child of his own brain, reared by J. Pierpont Morgan with the acquiescence, since regretted, of Andrew Carnegie.

Mr. Schwab pictured the Steel Corporation as a legal organization not formed to curtail output, restrict competition or maintain prices, but to develop the steel industry of America. Aside from reciting the inside history of the origin of the Steel Corporation, he gave the committee much information relating to traffic matters, ore properties and steel manufactures. He said that he had persuaded Carnegie to sell.

"We were trying to make Mr. Frick live up to his own agreement," he added. "We finally reorganized and agreed upon a $320,000,000 valuation."

CAR MEN ON STRIKE AT DES MOINES

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 5.—Awed by 5000 men and boys who burned General Manager Harrigan of the street car company in effigy because of his refusal to arbitrate with 500 employees who struck at 1-15 this morning the three hundred strike breakers, whom the company had brought here to run the cars did not stir out of the barns this morning. Thousands of people cheered the union men as they brought their cars in for the last trip. Then the crowd charged the hotels where the strike breakers were quartered and fought the police who attempted to disburse them. Two policemen were injured in the riot.

At nine o'clock this morning, 2,500 strike sympathizers completely surrounded the car barns and dared the strike breakers to run a car out.

ATTY. GEN. HOGAN RULES APPOINTMENT OF COUNTY DETECTIVES IS INVALID

Columbus, Aug. 5.—The law passed by the last legislature allowing prosecuting attorneys of Ohio to appoint special secret service detectives in their respective counties, was today declared to be invalid by Attorney General Hogan. The law provides that the salary of the detectives should be fixed by the presiding judge of the common pleas court of the subdivision of that judicial district. The attorney general says he is unable to find in the general code of Ohio the office of presiding judge of a common pleas subdivision.

WAITER CONFESSED HE WAS WITH WOMAN WHO LEAPED FROM A HOTEL WINDOW

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 5.—Peter R. Poulos, aged 24 years, a waiter, has surrendered to the police and confessed that he was with Miss Max Judell at the Vendome Hotel Tuesday morning when she met her death. He said the woman jumped from the third-story window and that fright caused him to flee.

The horror of what he saw so proved on his mind, he said that although he reported for work each day as usual, he had had no sleep since early Tuesday morning.

John D. Dalton, former prosecuting attorney, takes his meals at the Buckingham and sits at Poulos. This Poulos, revealed his secret to Dalton and agreed to surrender to the police. Poulos said he was leaving a ding store when a west-bound car stopped and a woman got off. He had never seen her before, but she smiled and he tipped his hat.

She came over to me and said, 'Let's go and get a little drink.' I said I didn't mind. Then we went downtown and to the hotel,' he declared.

"She suggested that we stay downtown. We went to the Vendome Hotel. I registered as it Pappas and paid for the room. After standing upstairs I had a dollar change in case I should have to give tips. I went to sleep but he was very restless."

She wandered about the room and several times she waked me with her screams. I saw her standing with one foot on the window sill. She jumped right out of the window. She leaped forward and it seemed to me she went head first. I was badly scared. I looked out of the window and saw that she was lying in the alley.

I was going to call for help, but then I thought it best to get away. I was dressed but couldn't find my socks and watch. I went downstairs, telling the clerk I would be back in a minute. I couldn't sleep and haven't slept since then."

WHAT IS IT?

VERDICT OF SUICIDE.
St. Louis, Aug. 5.—A verdict of suicide was returned here today by the coroner's jury investigating the death of Mrs. Max Judell. The chief of police announced that the Vendome Hotel and all other places of its kind should be closed. This hotel was the scene of the tragedy where Mrs. Judell met her death. The jury's verdict was returned after Peter Poulos, the Greek waiter, had testified on the stand the story he told in his confession of being with the woman in the room when she leaped to her death. Poulos admitted that he was her escort, but he was released by the verdict.

RESCINDS ACTION ON DISCOUNT

School Book Commission Feared Monopoly of Big Book Concern

BETTER LEGISLATION

On School Book Affairs Will Pro- bably be Result of Present Situation.

Columbus, O., Aug. 5.—Fearful that its course in reducing from 25 to 40 per cent the reductions from the list price submitted by school book companies for license to sell books in Ohio would result in giving the American Book Company a practical monopoly in the field, because it stole a march on its competitors and re-listed its books in advance, the state school commission yesterday practically rescinded its action of several weeks ago.

The course decided upon by the commission is this: Where book companies have books actually in use in the schools of Ohio they will be listed at 75 per cent of the list price as provided by law. All revised editions and all new books will have to be passed upon by the commission before they are admitted. The commission may then exercise its judgment in fixing the price. A 40 per cent reduction probably will be insisted upon against those.

The commission's action was taken after the situation had been considered from all angles at several conferences by Governor Harmon, Secretary of State Graves and State School Commissioner Miller. It practically was forced by two things. First: The fact that the listing of its books by the American Book Company, which does 60 per cent of the business in Ohio, and a few minor companies in the fall of last year was held to be legal by the attorney general; and second, that with few exceptions the school book companies refused to sell to Ohio boards of education at 60 per cent of their list price.

As Attorney General Hogan pointed out in his opinion, the situation would work to the benefit of the American Company as against the smaller companies, as it would have practically no competition.

The helplessness of the state, in view of these facts, is declared to be chargeable to the commission, which in 1910 allowed the American Company to list its books at the 75 per cent figure.

The commission has not changed its view that school books are too expensive to the consumer. Governor Harmon reiterated his position on this point yesterday, but in view of the present situation, added that he could see that the commission's former stand would mean a practical monopoly for one company.

In regard to the Cleveland situation, where the board of education claims the books it wants are barred because of the state's action, it was said that the books had never been listed. To be listed now the companies must accept the 60 per cent price. The net result will be to require the board to keep its present books.

If nothing more," said Secretary Graves, "I think the action of the commission has had one effect. It will prevent changes and I think materially reduce the number of school book agents in Ohio. When a revised edition of a text book is submitted now it must be passed upon by the commission."

"The law on school books was drawn with a fine Italian hand," said Attorney General Hogan. "The clause which says that 'When and so often as any company lists its books, it is doubtless the work of a very shrewd and far seeing book company attorney.'"

Secretary Graves thinks that the present situation will enable some one to go before the next legislature and ask for better school book legislation. He favors the state making its own books. Both branches of the assembly last year turned down the Yount bill for uniform text books and competitive bidding.

NEWARK TAKES FIRST GAME FROM ZANESVILLE; POTTERS GET THREE HITS

Hale Starts Game But Retires When Hard Hit Ball Causes Him Some Trouble—Gilbert Strong as Relief Pitcher and Raidy's Gang Is Helpless. Ladies' Day Brought Out a Big Crowd.

Hale and Gilbert made up a combination Friday afternoon which was too much for the Zanesville tribe after their long ride from Grand Rapids to Newark, and the locals drew first blood in the three game series with the Potters.

Hale did not quit disgraced. On the contrary he retreated in good order, with colors flying. It was merely a strategic move on the part of Generalissimo Pendry and the action was taken after Hale had become incapacitated on the firing line.

It was in the fifth inning when a line drive was stopped by Hale that caused him trouble. He became ill and rather than take a chance on losing the game, Pendry made a quick switch and Gilbert was sent to the mound. He did nobly, allowing but one hit in four innings and this was a fly ball which was misjudged by Wickland. It was the first mistake made by Wick on the local field. He started in as the ball left the bat, when he should have held his ground or backed up a little. As it was, the ball went over his head, but he recovered it quickly enough to hold the runner at second where he died.

This game brought out conflicting emotions regarding Newark's new shortstop, Clyde Parker. In the early innings, the fans were ready to say unkind things of him but before the game was over he had redeemed himself to a large extent. He had a hard day, being called upon to handle ten chances. On two of these he wobbled, but on the others he made good and showed good headwork on several occasions.

The crowd was all that could be wished for in the point of numbers. The fair fans came out in force and they seemed to appreciate the fact that Newark was playing rings around the Zanesville aggregation. They left the grounds in good spirits, feeling they had been well entertained.

Zanesville's only run was scored on a scratch. With two men retired, Hillinger rolled one to Parker at short and Clyde fumbled. Jay Parker had a passed ball, Hillinger going to second. Farrell drove a hit to right field and was thrown out at second by a splendid peg by Dolley Gray. Hillinger scored on the play, though he crossed the plate after the man was retired at second.

Craven got on in the first inning, but was caught at second in an attempt to steal. In the second inning, with Wickland retired, Gray singled and took second on an infield play and scored on Clyde Parker's hit to right center.

In the fourth with two down, Gray doubled to left field and scored on Kihm's drive to deep left back of short.

Pendry singled and stole second. Wickland hit safely. Pendry coming home on the hit. Gray got his third hit of the game and Wickland attempted to score from second on the play but Swartling recovered the ball and threw to the plate turning Wickland back.

Zanesville made a desperate effort to change the luck in the last inning by putting in Stremmel and Welsh as pinch hitters but they all looked alike to Gilbert and went down before his excellent pitching. Some of the fans had unkind things to say of Shortstop Parker, when he failed to pull down Ragsdale's hit in the second. The ball was over his head several feet and when he jumped for it he could get but one hand on the ball. Some of the fans had him charged with three errors, counting this as one of them. It was a hit, pure and simple, and it would have been a sensational stop if he had pulled it down successfully.

Pendry hit to right field in the eighth inning and stretched the hit into a double. He had no slide for the bag and he lay motionless on the ground after being declared safe. Every fan on the ground fully expected to learn that he was badly injured having visions of the "jinx" which has clung so tightly to the Newark team. There was a mighty cheer and a hearty handclapping when the club doctor was seen coming from the group of players around the second bag and Pendry was seen to stand up, apparently unhurt.

Quiesser pulled off a peculiar stunt after Gilbert had relieved Hale in the fifth. A foul tip struck him under the chin where the chest protector failed to protect. The ball dropped down under the protector and lodged there. Gilbert, the ump and the batsman were all looking for the ball, when Quiesser pulled it out and tossed it to the field.

A Zanesville rooster occupied a prominent seat in the center of the grand stand and for several innings he had a good time rooting for his home club. His pleasure lasted until he called attention to the fact that heffoff would steal home in the third inning. He asked everybody in the stand to keep their eyes on heffoff. Naturally everybody did, but they didn't see him steal home. He started all right, but Parker had to go out and meet him with the ball. After that the Zanesville bug was silent.

Waterhouse is earning that $7500 and a right to hold out for more money next year. He can't lose for winning. And this young Mr. Cashion is no much as Wally will testify. Scolding at expected "Wally" hopes he has any such thing. But his name in a 2 type label?

ZANESVILLE HERE FOR GREAT SUNDAY GAME

Newark and Zanesville play Sunday afternoon at 3:15 at Wehrle park and with conditions favorable, the largest crowd of the season will be present. Word comes from Zanesville that a big crowd will come from that city to see the game. Gilbert is anxious to work again and may be given the opportunity. Everything is in readiness for the big crowd and three thousand can be handled very comfortably. Newark fans have turned out nobly and they should remember that a good attendance Sunday helps meet the pay rolls.

The sporting editor of the Advocate has received a personal letter from Steve Ragan, St. Joseph's Hospital, Ft. Wayne, Ind., in which the injured player speaks of his appreciation of the kind wishes of his Newark friends, who wrote him offering their sympathy in his trouble. Ragan is improving as rapidly as possible and may be able to be removed to his home in Kansas City within a few days.

Lynch May Place Magee on Probation

New York, Aug. 5.—President Lynch of the National League said yesterday that in view of the player's promise of future good behavior, he might soon raise the suspension inflicted against Sherwood Magee of the Philadelphia club. He said, however, that if Magee is allowed to re-enter the game it will be with the understanding that he is on strict probation.

"The finding of the board of directors is just what I expected," said Mr. Lynch. "The attack of Player Magee on Umpire Finneran was brutal, uncalled for and unwarranted."

"While the penalty is a severe one, yet, for the good of the game, the enforcement of discipline and to prevent recurrences of this kind, there was nothing else for me to do."

"The player has appeared before the board of directors and stated freely that he was sorry that the incident occurred; that he has always tried to conduct himself in such a way as not to bring disrespect upon himself or his profession. He now freely admits that there was nothing done or said by the umpire which would in any way have warranted him in his actions. He also promises that in case he is reinstated never again to lay his hands on an umpire nor cause any trouble in the National League."

"This statement on the part of the player I will give my most serious consideration, with a view of possibly some time in the near future raising temporarily the suspension inflicted against him. If I decide to take this action, however, it will be only to give the player an opportunity to show in a probationary way that he fully intends to carry out his promises."

BATTLE CREEK PAYS $500 FOR PITCHER HOOK

The Northern State League in which "Katy" Hook, the Coshooton lad, has shown such remarkable ability as a twirler has dissolved on account of the lack of finances.

Hook, who has been with the Huntington team, was sold to the Battle Creek team in the Michigan League for $500. Hook pitched the last three games for the Huntington team before the league broke up, winning two and losing one. In the three games, the opposition made only three runs and eleven hits. The first two games he won with ease, but in the last because of the stringent task of pitching three games in succession, "Katy" weakened in the fifth inning and a two bagger and a sacrifice fly netted the run needed to win. Hook has acquitted himself very creditably while with the Huntington team, and his Coshooton friends expect him to move into faster company next season.

RIDS GET THREE FROM COAST.

Cincinnati, Aug. 5.—It was announced here yesterday that Bill Lange, former Chicago outfielder, now acting as scout for the Cincinnati team, had signed Miles Nitzel, third baseman of the Spokane team in the Northwestern League; Outfielder Edward Kipert of Spokane and Pitcher Schmitz of Tacoma. Lange endeavored to sign Hittler Ryan of Portland, the leading batter of the Pacific Coast League, but found that Cleveland had an option on him.

SOX GET A NO-HIT PITCHER.

Galesburg, Ills., Aug. 5.—"Lefty" Magridge, who on Wednesday pitched a one hit game before five big league scouts, making his third win in five days, has been sold by the Galesburg Central Association team to the Chicago American League club.

NEW TALENT EXPECTED IN BIG LEAGUES

During the next few weeks there promises to be quite an influx of new talent into the big leagues from the various minor organizations. A number of purchases of youngsters has been announced, and these recruits will report to their new owners just as rapidly as it is seen that the teams with which they now are playing have no opportunity for higher positions than those they now occupy. Among the new Reds who are expected to report in the near future are Pitcher Compton, of Dayton; Pitcher Boyd, of Ottumwa; Catcher Murphy of Dallas; Pitcher Benton and Third Baseman Phelan of the Southern League, and one or two others. As fast as these men report they will be put into the game, as the local club is determined to do as little experimenting as possible next spring, feeling that now is the time to ascertain the true worth of the youngsters as all of them are playing at their best speed and so can give a true account of their abilities. Of the new men being tried out at present, Marsans and Almeida are making the best showing and the prospects are bright that they will be among the regulars when the team gets busy for its battles for high honors next spring.

It is doubtful if any team ever organized can place as many nationalities in the field as the Reds—and every man, with possibly one exception, playing in his regular position, too. Here's an "international" line-up that cannot be equalled by any club in any league: Catcher, Severid, Norwegian; Pitcher, Casper, French; First base, Hoblitzell, Austrian; Second base, Grieve, Scotchman; Shortstop, Balonti, Indian; Third Base, Almeida, Portuguese; Left field, Beschler, German; Center field, Bates, Englishman; Right field, Mitchell, Irish. Add to this list Marsans, Cuban, extra outfielder; Suggs, American, pitcher, and Griffith, Welshman, the manager, and by far the greatest diversity of nationalities ever gathered together on one team is exhibited.

It is still anybody's pennant in the National league, with the Chicago Cubs enjoying a short hunch in first place. New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Pittsburgh are still in the running, and any of these clubs may be found at the top of the ladder when the season closes. Judging from the work they have done this season, and comparing this with the manner in which the Detroit and the Athletics, the real contenders for the flag in the American league, are performing it would seem that the world championship again would go to the American league next fall, no matter which of the two teams mentioned wins the flag. Local fans will have the opportunity of sizing up two of the possible National league champions on the next two Sundays, as the Phillies, minus Charles Doolin are here for a game Sunday, August 7, while the Pittsburghs come for a double header for one admission on Sunday, August 13, these being the last Sunday appearances of the Reds on the local lot until early in September.

American lovers of the fistic art are loudly applauding Governor Dix of New York, and remarking: "Wouldn't he make a fine president?" And all because the chief executive of the Empire State has signed the bill permitting boxing contests with pillows. The new law limits fights to ten rounds, insists that they shall be conducted before clubs that are able to put up a $5,000 forfeit, makes the weight of the gloves eight ounces, and annexes five per cent of the receipts of these fights to the state treasury. From now on old Gotham will echo with the tap tap of the big mitts, and the ordinary fighter will again be given the opportunity of picking up an occasional piece of beer money.

Automobile manufacturers all over the country are making strenuous efforts to induce the officials having charge of the Fern Bank Dam celebration, to be held in Cincinnati from September 4 to September 9, to put on two or three automobile races in connection with the general celebration. Every feature of the week's program, including motor boat races, river parades, street pageants, aviation flights and other attractions will be free, and it is believed that a series of road races over a course of five miles in length, and calling for a total run of from 100 to 200 miles, according to the class of the cars would prove a powerful magnet for out of town visitors. The matter has been taken under advisement and the prospects are good for the adoption of the plan.

That easy money which Jack Johnson expected to pick up by fighting Paddy Curran, the Irish champion, in Dublin this month, seems to have taken flight. Reports from Dublin are to the effect that the fight will not be allowed to take place because of the prospect of a riot ensuing if the Irishman is in any way worsted. At the last fight held in Dublin the spectators engaged in a disgraceful brawl, and the authorities fear a repetition of this mix-up. Johnson, by the way, is disgusting all his followers in this country by his declaration of fealty to Great Britain and his expressed hope that he will never have to return to the United States, again, as this country "never did anything for him." Perhaps we can get along without the Galveston roustabout and may even be glad we've lost him.

And by right of having been the first on the ground, for foreign nations, I claim the privilege of priority in the choice of the best site and largest space for Brazil's exhibit."

Fruit Ice Cream. With so many fruits now on hand a good base for ice cream will be timely. Scald one pint of milk, add one tablespoonful of flour blended with a little cold milk and stir until slightly thickened, then cover and cook for three-quarters of an hour. Add one cupful and a half of sugar beaten thoroughly with three eggs and stir until again slightly thickened, then strain and chill. Add one pint of heavy cream and one cupful or more of any kind of pulped fruit; when a very acid sort, such as currant, is chosen, increase the quantity of sugar by a cupful or more, according to the acidity of the fruit. "No," said the girl, "that is why I looked you up and found out how the family are treated."—New York Press.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Problem of Feeding Children.
It is not well to force a child to eat that which he finds seriously distasteful, even though it be the most staple of foods. Children differ greatly in taste and should be allowed a reasonable choice of foods that are set before them. There is a happy medium between being overindulgent and exacting obedience to cast iron rules. Children often have all their individuality repressed by conforming to set ways entirely unsuited to their temperaments. Modify the rules to suit individual characteristics and you will have healthier, happier and more capable children.

PERSONAL PROPERTY.

The reader's attention is directed to a communication in another part of this newspaper signed "The Newark Board of Review." The article is of interest because it deals with local taxation and tells how the local tax rate can be kept within the one percent limit. The Board of Review appeals to the people to make a fair and honest return of their personal property, pointing out the increase that has been made on public utilities, railroads and real estate. The Board cites the law governing the situation and shows that penalties may be assessed if property return is not made. The communication is worthy of your careful attention.

HOW REPUBLICANS
COLLECTED TAXES
OF CORPORATIONS

Ananias would step from his place at the head of the class of world's famous prevaricators and give it to the Ohio g. o. p. press agent, if he could hear the statement of the latter that former Attorney General Ellis, now grabbing $12,000 fees from Uncle Sam, made a diligent effort to collect the Willis tax from underlying public service corporations.
Wade Hampton Ellis many years ago instituted six suits, two in each of the three large Ohio cities, to collect the Willis tax from these corporations.
Four of them were dismissed for want of prosecution (Ellis was too busy playing politics). As a result of Ellis's neglect one of the two suits which he had started in Cleveland against public service corporations had reached the point of dissolution when Attorney General Hogan came into office and he was unable to revive it. The other suit also had been neglected and

HON. W. D. FULTON CANDIDATE
FOR CONGRESSMAN-AT-LARGE

The Enquirer's state correspondent, who writes from Cedar Point, where the Legislative reunion has just been held, makes the following announcement pertaining to our townsman, Hon. W. D. Fulton and his candidacy
for Congressman-at-Large:

Representative Duane Fulton of Newark, the author of the Congressional gerrymander bill, which failed of passage in the Senate after successfully passing the House, will be a candidate for Congressman at Large in the event that Congress prescribes a rule requiring the creation of such an office.

"Mr. Fulton takes the ground that his long and arduous service in the work of gerrymandering entitles him to consideration, and at the coming state convention his name will be presented. This, of course, is predicated it was sinking for the third time when General Hogan took office, but he grabbed it by the tail just as it was about to go under and injected some of that DEMOCRATIC RESUSCITA-TION LIQUID INTO IT AND IT IS NOW A HEALTHY LAW SUIT.

As a result of favoritism by Republican officers these underlying public service corporations escaped paying $500,000 in taxes every year. Democratic officers are making them pay.

The Farmers' Free List.

It is reported from Washington that President Taft has begun to prepare his veto of the Farmers' Free List.
This will be unfortunate for the President, inasmuch as it will be just what his political enemies in the Republican party expect of him. If he has alienated, as they contend, a large portion of the farmers of the Northwest by his Canadian agreement, what must be the result of his veto of a bill to give the farmers some relief from tariff exactions. The chief grounds of the veto are that the bill is passed without a report of the President's Tariff Commission, and that the bill is not "scientifically" constructed. There was just about as much reason for awaiting a report of the Tariff Commission on the Reciprocity bill as there is for vetoing this bill, because the Commission has not reported on it after a delay of more than two years and an expenditure of nearly a half million dollars. This Farmers' Free List is after all but a supplement of the Reciprocity bill; and if one is a judicious measure so is the other.

As for the ground that the Farmers' bill is not formulated on a scientific basis, the country has heard a good deal of that sort of plea. It is asserted by the beneficiaries of the wool schedule that it is the most scientifically constructed in the whole tariff.
Much he same thing is said of the cotton schedule.

But the people of this country have become tired of being scientifically robbed by the tariff. Their experience causes them to prefer more common sense and less alleged science in tariff legislation. At the same time they are weary of waiting for futile reports of the Tariff Commission with its more or less untrustworthy statistics gathered by inept agents with whom the salary is the chief consideration.
By vetoing this bill the President will represent that minority of the American people whose interest in tariff plunder is paramount to the public welfare. It will be his fault if he abide with this minority.

Fighting the chestnut blight has begun at the State Forest Academy and there is a pretty good-sized apportion for the purpose. We shall be glad to hear that success is attending the campaign to cut down every infected tree or branch and burn the wood. But around New York they have accomplished so little that the lamentable prediction is made that the

THE FLIGHT OF TIME.

The summer's swiftly gliding by, it couldn't well be fleet-er and soon will cease to curse the fly, and howl at the mosketeer. A few more busy, bustling weeks, and summer will be over! The frost will sparkle on the leaves, the sandbars and the clover! The sun behind the wintry clouds will sink its task forgetting; and we no more in witted crowds will tell how hard we're sweating. And when the snow has hid the flowers, which now the fields are thriving, we'll talk of golden summer hours, with tears of idle longing. And that's the way we all are built; our heads are made of leather; in summer, when our collars wilt, we long for wintry weather. And when the fires of winter burn, when come the snow and blizzard, we wish that summer would return, to thaw our frozen gizzard. I sometimes think that when we leave this world of sin and sorrow, where people sit around and grieve, and we and anguish borrow, we'll weary of the harp and crown and of the snowy pinions, and seek a chance to amble down to these profane dominions.

upon receiving sufficient assurance of support throughout the state.

"The Newark Representative is a lawyer and has a good legislative record, being the author of the law eliminating technical errors in trials as grounds for rehearings. He is also the author of the bill exempting cities from the operation of the county local option. This was introduced after the failure of the Dean bill, which exempted all municipalities."

Under the new Congressional apportionment bill being enacted at Washington, Ohio will be entitled to 22 Representatives, instead of 21 as at present. As the Legislature failed to pass a re-districting bill the additional Congressman will be elected from the state at large and will be nominated at the State Convention next year.

whole race of chestnut trees is doomed.

OBJECTIONS
TO TAX RATE
BEING OVERCOME

The strongest protests against the low tax rate bill have, perhaps, come from Cleveland and Cincinnati, where Republican office holders wanted to continue their old system of extravagantly spending the people's money, with the people powerless to check them.

Civic organizations in both cities joined with the tax spenders in denouncing the law and asserting it would fail to produce sufficient revenue to meet the demands of the cities. Interviews were published for the purpose of arousing public sentiment against the Smith law, and demands were made for extra sessions of the general assembly. Other things were done to embarrass the state administration. The opponents of the bill began their fight before they knew what their tax duplicates would be.

Governor Harmon and his supporters, meantime, were confident of their ground and awaited developments—principally the fixing of the tax value of railroads and other public utilities by the state tax commission.

Now a different note is heard from Cleveland. At a meeting of the budget commission the other day, County Auditor Prestien told Mayor Baehr that there is no cause to worry about funds to run the city next year. Conservative estimates, he showed, placed the total tax duplicate for Cuyahoga county next year at $550,000,000, of which $750,000,000 will be in the city.
With this valuation he figured that a total levy of 1.268 mills for all purposes would provide ample revenue, the city levying five mills and being able to raise at least as much money as it had in 1910.

As the work of the State Tax Commission proceeds, it is becoming evident that, when Cincinnati public service corporations are all appraised and work on the Hamilton county duplicate is completed, sufficient money can be raised under the Smith 1 per cent tax to meet government expenses of the Queen City.

The Tax Commission has placed tentative values on railroads and tractions and the increases will amount to between $625,000,000 and $650,000,000.
Every county duplicate in the state will receive a portion of this. Cincinnati's share will be close to $125,- 000,000. This will bring the Cincinnati duplicate within $63,000,000 of the $750,000,000 needed to provide sufficient funds under the low rate law. Hundreds of other public service corporations are to be appraised, and when this is done there will be no cause for trouble in Cincinnati.

Thus one by one objections to the new law are being overcome. It is difficult to figure out upon what grounds the Republican Press Bureau.

organized to fight the low tax rate, and its allies, Republican office-holders, will base their next protest and fault finding.

In Cuba as well as in other Central American Republics people take to revolution because they have nothing else to do. It is a trade that requires no great amount of skill and experience.

The Democrats in the House of Representatives did not pass the Canadian Reciprocity bill to put President Taft in a hole, nor did they pass the Wool bill and Farmers' Free List for any such purpose. If the President should tumble into a hole over these bills it will be his own fault.

SARAH M. JONES
IS CELEBRATING
90TH BIRTHDAY

Probably one of the oldest of the pioneer women of Licking county is Mrs. Sarah M. Jones, widow of the late Thomas Jones, who for a number of years has been making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Mary Williams, a widow, in St. Albans township. Mrs. Jones was born in Carmarthen, South Wales, August 3, 1821, and on Saturday, surrounded

MRS. SARAH M. JONES.

by her family and a few friends, she celebrated the 90th anniversary of her birth. When 27 years of age she was married to Mr. Thomas Jones, a prosperous citizen of North Wales. Immediately after their marriage they came to this country and spent their honeymoon on a farm on the St. Albans road. Soon afterward they removed to a farm in St. Albans township, where they have always lived and where Mrs. Jones still lives with her daughter, Mrs. Williams. She has two sons, one of whom lives in Newark and the other lives on the old farm on the Columbus road. One daughter died about ten years ago.

POPULAR SONGS.

A prominent music publisher once said "the best way to judge of a song's popularity is by the number of para-graphs written on it." In the last twenty-five years there have been put on the market numerous imitations of Hewitt's Easy Task soap—the original white laundry soap. It is a soap in imitating, it certainly is worth trying.
Hewitt's Easy Task soap has "made good" in countless homes, because it really does what others try to do.

OBITUARY

REV. D. D. DAVIS.
Rev. D. D. Davis was born Feb. 2, 1840, at Llanymddyri, South Wales, and died Aug. 4, 1914, at Granville, O., after a long illness. Mr. Davis was a member of the Ebenezer Congregational church of Swansea, S.
W., and was educated for the ministry at Swansea Normal College and at Carmarthen Congregational College of Wales. His first call was to Dangbrin, in Carmarthenshire, one of the oldest Congregational churches in that part of the country. After two and one half years he received the unusual honor of being called to the First Congregational church in Scranton, Pa., the largest Welsh Congregational church in the United States.

Rev. Davis afterward accepted calls to the Edwardsville, Pa., Congregational church, the New York Congregational church of Knoxville, Tenn., and Mt. Carmel, Pa.
In 1896 Rev. Davis undertook the pastorate of the Dodgeville, Wis., church, at which place he remained seven years. In 1903 Rev. Davis and his family removed to Granville, but he has not been engaged in active work.

In 1866 he was united in marriage to Miss Anna Davis of Cincinnati. He is survived by his wife, a daughter, a son, and two brothers and two sisters in Wales. The funeral will be held at the home in Granville on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment in Maple Grove cemetery.

old son of Rev. and Mrs. Orlo Price, who was drowned in a river near Lansing, Mich., while bathing, ar-to the Price homestead in the Welsh Hills, where the funeral services were held Saturday afternoon of Granville officiated and interment was made in the Welsh Hills cemtery.

FACTS AS TO COMING
PRIMARY ELECTIONS

Will be Held September 5---Petitions of Candidates Must be Filed by August 5.

The primary elections of both political parties are held on the same day.

The primaries this year will be held on Tuesday, September 5.

All petitions of candidates for the primaries must be filed with the Board of Elections by August 5. (The exact date will be August 6, but that comes on Sunday.)

This is the ruling which has been sent out by the Attorney General.

Persons who desire to have their names on the primary ballot must have their petitions signed and filed by that time.

Petitions of candidates must contain signatures equal to 2 per cent of the party vote in county, municipality, township or ward.

The basis of percentage in each case shall be the vote of the party in such county, municipality, precinct, ward or other political subdivision for governor at the last preceding election for state offices.

The facts and dates given in the above notice have been approved as correct in a special letter to the editor of the Advocate from the Secretary of State.

THE LORIMER WITNESS.

Not long ago it began to look as if the true defendant in the Lorimer case were going to be the original committee of investigation. Just now it is the witnesses before the second committee who are keeping Lorimer himself in the background. In all trials of a criminal or semi-criminal character there is likely to be a good deal of direct conflict of testimony.
But the amount of flat contradiction and giving of the lie already brought out by the present investigation is extraordinary—and all the more extraordinary when one considers the character and standing of the witnesses so far examined. They are not petty and obscure politicians, such as gave much of the original testimony. They are for the most part important business men, some of them the heads of great corporations, or else politicians of a very high rank. Yet it is perfectly evident that if one group of them has told the truth the other hasn't. Perjury is an ugly word to use, but either some of these men have committed it or else the fallibility of the human memory is far greater than is commonly supposed.
Which leads us to admit again that it is not easy for a patriotic American to extract satisfaction from the Lorimer case in any of its phases.—

BOOSTING

Our city is best done by every man making his business the very best.
This will double, or triple, each business and the number of its employees. Such increase would boost our city as nothing else could. For instance, the Buckeye State Building & Loan Company, Rankin Building, 22 West Gay street, Columbus, Ohio, is one of the best in its line. Hence its great growth. Assets $4,800,000.
It pays 5 per cent on time deposits.

Passenger Receipts Gain.

It has frequently been remarked that the sustained gross earnings of railroads this past year were due to a heavier passenger traffic. The June and six months' statement of the Pennsylvania bear out the fact.
Practically every line in the system lost in freight but gained in passenger revenue. The Pennsylvania has two lines, the Long Island and the West Jersey & Seashore, whose passenger revenue is greatly in excess of freight. On the former, for instance, in June passenger traffic produced $705,501 and freight $248,- 678. The moving cost of this business was 40 per cent of gross. On the Seashore line passenger revenue was $382,000, against $146,693 freight, with a transportation cost of 40 per cent.

Thirty Years Together.

Thirty years of association—think of it. How the merit of a good this. Ariss, Concord, Mich., who

ARMY LASSIE STOOD UP WELL UNDER FIRE

Akeley, Minn., August 5.—Captain Mary Johnson of Salvation Army headquarters at Minneapolis, was fired upon yesterday when she was walking on the railroad tracks near Mizpah, Minn. Three bullets whizzed past her head, but she betrayed no fear and walked straight to the man who had fired the shots, and, reaching out, took his revolver away from him.

Miss Johnson was assigned to duty here some few weeks ago. Yesterday she found it necessary to visit a family living near the railroad tracks. She saw a well dressed man about 100 feet from her suddenly draw a revolver and begin shooting. He offered no resistance when she took the gun from him. She then escorted her prisoner to Mizpah, where she refused to turn him over to the authorities.

"Why did you shoot at me?" she demanded.

"Just to see how a Salvation Army girl would act under fire," was the answer.

It is thought the man was demented. He has not been seen since the incident.

POPULAR NEWARK COUPLE MARRIED IN CAPITAL CITY

Miss Edythe Kellenberger Becomes Bride of Kenneth P. Crouse at Columbus Friday.

An announcement which will come as a great surprise to their friends is that of the marriage of two well known young Newark people, Mr. Kenneth P. Crouse and Miss Edythe Kellenberger. They started ostensibly for Buckeye Lake to spend the afternoon Friday, but instead, went on to Columbus, where they were married by Rev. G. W. Burns of that city.

The young people thought to keep the affair a secret for awhile and then spring a surprise on their friends, but they neglected to take the Columbus papers into their confidence, so the license was published Saturday morning.

Mr. Crouse is with the Federal Sign System of Lexington, Ky., but was formerly of this city. Mr. Crouse is a son of the late Wm. P. Crouse, his mother, Mrs. Harriet Crouse, living in North Fourth street, this city. Mrs. Crouse is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kellenberger of South Fifth street. Mr. Crouse left for Chicago Saturday, where he will attend a large convention and on his return he and his bride will go to Lexington, Ky., where they will make their home.

CATARRH OF STOMACH RELIEVED BY PERUNA.

"I Do Honestly Believe Your Great Medicine, Peruna, Saved My Life."

Mr. Samuel A. Seal.

Mr. Samuel A. Seal, Route 2, Treadway, Tenn., writes:

"It gives me great pleasure to testify to the great good your medicine Peruna, has done for me in a chronic case of catarrh of the stomach. I was confined to my bed for some time, and could not sit up. I was gradually growing worse. Seeing how Peruna was recommended for catarrh, I procured some. After taking it a few days I began to get better. I continued using it until I was able to go to work on the farm again and now I am in very good health."

"I do honestly believe that your great medicine, Peruna, saved my life, and I cheerfully recommend it to like sufferers."

ADDRESS OF B. & O. CLAIM AGENT AT EMPLOYEES REUNION

The address delivered by C. W. Egan, general claim agent of the Baltimore and Ohio system, to the employees of the operating Department of the road at their annual reunion at Harper's Ferry, W. Va., has attracted considerable attention in railroad circles and the point brought out in the address, urging care in the discharge of duty were freely discussed. Mr. Egan spoke to the railroad men at their special invitation the subject of "conservation of men," and the advice he gave the men of the rank and file in railroad operation is an evidence of the concerted action towards minimizing the number of railroad casualties being pursued by the lines. Mr. Egan has made a close study of the cause and effect, both to the company and to the employees, of a failure to observe instructions in little things which many times are extended by serious consequences in big things.

He made it plain to the railroad men that in most cases where an infraction of rules had resulted in a loss to the railroad company, or perhaps a personal injury to the employee it would have caused less effort to regard the rules than to disregard them. Mr. Egan is regarded as an expert on the subject he spoke of at Harper's Ferry, having made similar talks to various associations of railroad men throughout the country. He was president of the National Association of Railway Claim Agents, embracing a membership of the Claim Agents and Claim Attorneys of the large American and Canadian railroad systems and delivered a similar address before the convention of that association.

To the railroad men at Harper's Ferry, Mr. Egan pointed out that a majority of the railroad mishaps are a result of inadvertence on the part of the men themselves, or the act of a fellow servant. He cited to his hearers that in most cases more time is consumed making a report of an accident to superior officers than would have been necessary to take precautionary steps to prevent. As Mr. Egan expressed it, "more time is taken up explaining a non-observance of rules which caused an accident than would have been required in the correct performance of duty and consequent avoidance of injury or damage to equipment."

Mr. Egan told the railroad men that, in his opinion, every employee is in duty bound to impress upon every fellow-employee the importance of carefulness in his railroad work, and if after endeavoring to bring this about his efforts meet with failure, then it is his duty to place the matter before the proper official in order that a correction may be made.

"The proper meaning of conservation of men with regard to the railways of our country," said Mr. Egan, "is the prevention of accidents in which our best railway men are killed or injured and millions of dollars worth of property and equipment destroyed each year. In the last three months, according to statistics of our interstate railways, $2,900,000 was paid in repairs to engines and cars as the result of accidents which could have been prevented. When the statement is made that the accidents resulting in this destruction of property could have been prevented, the fact is established by investigation of the Interstate Commerce Commission which shows that 85 to 90 per cent of the accidents on our railways occur through carelessness."

"The greatest risk to careful and competent men, is the risk of serious injury or death through the thoughtlessness or carelessness of their fellowmen. As stated only ten to fifteen per cent of the accidents are the result of defective equipment or insufficient maintenance. "When you find a fellow workman, who is careless it is your duty to teach him to be careful, and if you cannot teach him to be careful, it is proper to call the matter to official attention. It is a duty you owe to yourselves and your fellowmen, it is a duty you owe to your family and it is a duty that you owe the company."

"You must remember that in nine cases out of ten it is better to delay a train than to cause an accident; in nine cases out of ten it takes less time to prevent an accident than it takes to make out a personal injury report and it also takes longer to explain why you did a thing wrong than it does to do it right. You must remember that every time one of your fellow workmen is killed, it not only brings sorrow, pain and suffering into the household, but necessitates the employment of a "green" man in his place and thereby lessens efficiency and makes your risks of employment greater."

The postal department has been asked to have rural carriers blow bigles as a signal of their approach. The carriers could probably perform better on an old fashioned dinner bell.

How the Children Trapped the Mad Dog in a Closet

Daddy's Bedtime Story

American Children Just as Brave As French Ones

"Do you remember me telling you folks," began daddy, "about the pluck of a little French boy and girl who kept the lamps in the light-house going while daddy lay dead downstairs?"

"Why, I should say so," replied Evelyn. "I'll never forget it."

"No neither," replied slinky Jack.

"Well, only the other day we found just as plucky a pair of American babies," said daddy. "Lord love 'em. I guess good little folks are the same the whole world over."

"This happened in New York city a few days ago, and the hero and heroine are babies compared to you two. James being only seven years old and his sister Annie only five. Their father, Mr. Rudolph, was talking on the front stoop of their house to a neighbor when around the corner came a great Dane dog, almost as big as me, frothing at the mouth and snapping and snarling."

"Everybody ran but Mr. Rudolph and his friend, who were too busy talking to notice the animal until it sprang up the steps and bit the friend on the hand, nearly taking off his finger."

"Then the brute darted through the opened doors and up the stairs to where the babies were. Mr. Rudolph almost fainted, but started after just in time to hear a door slam and the voice of James calling: 'All right, pop. Come on up. We got 'im.'"

"And what do you think those tots had done? They had seen the excitement in the street and started for their father when they saw the big dog leaping upstairs. Quick as a wink James opened the door of a linen closet that stood at the head of the staircase, and the excited animal plunged straight in. Then came the slam of the door, and when pop, almost exhausted with terror, reached the spot there were his two youngsters hanging on to the knob like grim death and telling him not to be afraid."

"In a few moments a policeman was on hand and shot the dog, and then the neighborhood went wild over James and Annie. If they had eaten one-tenth of the fruit and candy and ice cream sodas that were pressed on them I'm afraid that all the doctors in the neighborhood would have been called in, but they were very moderate and, in fact, seemed more frightened at the attentions showered on them than they were of the great dog that could easily have killed them."

"I think they each ought to have a Carnegie medal," said Evelyn.

"I shall be very much disappointed if they don't," said daddy.

State of Ohio, Insurance Department, Columbus, March 1, 1911.—I, Charles C. Lemert, Superintendent of Insurance of the State of Ohio, do hereby certify that the Employers Liability Assurance Corporation, located at London, England, in the Kingdom of Great Britain, has complied in all respects with the laws of this State, applicable to it, and is authorized to transact in this State its appropriate business of making insurance on the health of individuals and against personal injury, death, disability, resulting from traveling or general accidents by land and water; making insurance against loss or damage resulting from accident to property from cause other than fire or lightning; guaranteeing the fidelity of persons holding places of public or private trust, who may be required to, or do, in their trust capacity, receive, hold, control, disburse public or private moneys or property; guaranteeing the performance of contracts other than insurance policies, and executing and guaranteeing bonds and undertakings required or permitted in all actions or proceedings, or by law allowed; making insurance to indemnify employers against loss or damage for personal injury or death resulting from accidents to employees or persons other than employees, and to indemnify persons and corporations other than employers against loss or damage for personal injury or death resulting from accidents to other persons or corporations, as prescribed in Section 9510, paragraph second, General Code of Ohio in accordance with law, during the current year. PLEA FOR WEALTH.
Another misconception is that the great fortunes of the country are the result of high finance. With very rare exceptions rich men and rich corporations have become so by the same means as the farmers of the west have become rich. They have grown rich through the development of the resources of the country. The men who are rich now are the optimists who borrowed money and had the courage and foresight to hold these resources until their value had been developed. Carnegie was the greatest of industrial optimists. When others were timid and hesitating he borrowed all he could to build mills and railroads. When the country entered on the floodtide of prosperity Carnegie was the master of the iron and steel industry.—Paul D. Cravath.

SAVE THE HAIR

Newbro's Herpicide Will Do It.

No woman should have poor, thin, scraggy hair, and no man need become bald. Poor hair and final baldness are due to the dandruff germ.

Newbro's Herpicide will destroy this little germ and stop the hair from falling. Further evidence of this is found in a letter from Mrs. F. Nielsen of Tomah, Wis. She says: "I fought the worst kind of dandruff for nine years. I have been using Herpicide now one week, and my scalp is healthy, the dandruff has gone and the itching has stopped. It is the best remedy for scalp disease I ever saw and I have seen many."

Don't subject yourself to disappointment and expense by accepting something claimed to be "just as good" as Newbro's Herpicide. These off brands may possibly be good, but why take chances? The genuine and original dandruff germ destroyer can always be obtained. If your own druggist has nothing but "just as good" articles, go to W. A. Erman & Son, who will furnish you with Newbro's Herpicide and guarantee one dollar size bottles. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly. Send 10c. in postage or silver for sample and booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

RAILWAY AFFAIRS.

W. D. Cooper has been appointed supervisor of locomotive operation on the Cincinnati division of the P. & N. with headquarters at Gallon. Mr. Cooper will see that the engineers and others are instructed so as to reduce the cost of the maintenance of the locomotives, and to see to economies in the use of fuel, lubricating materials and tools. His work will be largely to bring about every economy possible, and still keep the service up to the standard.

FREE TELEGRAMS TO BE CUT OUT.

It has been the custom of those who leave articles in passenger trains to have the railroad operators telegraph to the next station free of charge, for the conductor to look them up and save them. This is a violation of the American Interstate Commission law, and the railroads have been notified not to send telegrams, either with or without charge, for articles left on the train. If the owners of the articles want to telegraph they must go to the Western union and pay for the telegram.

Accused of Stealing.
E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Mo., boldly accused Bucklen's Arnica Salve of stealing—the sting from burns or scalds—the pain from sores of all kinds—the distress from boils or piles. "It robs cuts, corns, bruises, sprains and injuries of their terror," he says. "As a healing remedy its equal doesn't exist." Only 25c at F. D. Hall's.

The secret of youth, from a feminine point of view, is to look younger than you are and to act younger than you look.

(Also Called Tetzer, Salt Rheum, Pruritus, Milk-Crust, Weeping Skin, etc.)
ECZEMA CAN BE CURED TO STAY, and when I say cured, I mean just what I say. If you have not been cured—after all I ask is just a chance to show you that I know what I am talking about. If you will write me 7c, I will send you a FREE TRIAL of my mild, soothing, guaranteed cure that will convince you more in a day than I or anyone else could in a month's time.
